Grocery Exporters

- Long ago we noticed business people from different Caribbean Islands shopping at our warehouse.
- Each person would fly to Puerto Rico, take a taxi cab to our warehouse, pick all the products, pay for all the products, arrange for the order to be sent to the docks, go to the docks, and arrange and pay for the shipment to the destination.
- We began approaching each of these customers and offered to do all of this legwork for them. That way, you can tell us what you need via the phone or email, and we will do all the work.
- Here is the way it normally happens...
